Fred Davis Leaves Wellsville.

Ever since he was born-we are not going to say when that was-Fred has seen identified with the town of Wellsville. His father built a large portion of the town. And no public enterprise has ever been inaugurated in the town without the name of Davis being identified with it as a booster. Fred has always spent his time and money freely in the interests of Wellsville. It is such citizens as he that make a town a good place to live in. Last Thursday morning, Mr. Davis, accompanied by his son, Floyd, left Wellsville for St. Louis, en route to Farmington, Mo., where they will go into business. Mr. Davis' only reason for leaving was to seek a better business opportunity than appeared to be open in Wellsville. This he thinks he has found in Farmington. It is with re gret that we tose him, but we assure the people of Farmington that they are gaining a citizen and a family to be proud of Mrs. Davis and the girts remain here at present, but will move as soon as Mr. Davis can secure a de- tutoes sirable residence.
